Sarah Jennings

Veterinary Surgeon

Contact

Exeter
07700 900259
sarah.jennings@example.com
MRCVS, registered with the RCVS

Skills

- Small animal medicine and soft tissue surgery
- Radiography, ultrasound and in-house laboratory tests
- Anaesthesia and pain management
- Clear, kind conversations with owners, including end-of-life care
- Practice management software and insurance claims

Profile

Small animal vet with six years in first-opinion practice, registered with the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons. Sees about 20 consultations a day, runs a surgery list two days a week and reads the practice's X-rays and ultrasound. Supervises veterinary nurses and student vets, and is working towards the Certificate in Advanced Veterinary Practice in small animal surgery. Looking for a senior vet post in a practice with a hospital.

Experience

Veterinary Surgeon

Exe Valley Veterinary Practice, Exeter · 2022–present

- See about 20 dogs, cats and rabbits a day: diagnosis, treatment plans, vaccinations and health checks.
- Run the routine and soft tissue surgery list two days a week, from neutering and lump removals to exploratory laparotomies.
- Take and read X-rays, scan with ultrasound and run in-house blood tests, and refer complex cases with a full history.
- Supervise two veterinary nurses and a student vet on each surgery day.
- Talk owners through costs, insurance claims and end-of-life decisions, and keep clinical records for every case.

Veterinary Surgeon

Teign Mixed Practice, Newton Abbot · 2020–2022

- Small animal consultations and surgery, with farm visits for herd health checks and calvings.

Education

Certificate in Advanced Veterinary Practice, small animal surgery, in progress

2024–present

BVSc Veterinary Science

Avonmere University · 2015–2020

Additional information

Member of the British Small Animal Veterinary Association. Full UK driving licence.